
Each bubble groups identical metric pairs rounded to 6 decimals; no jitter. Area is proportional to task count.
Color summarizes original saved outcomes. Small bubbles have uncertain success rates.
Button-choice cost = sum of $\log_2$(enabled buttons) along the correct original-task trace.